H. L. Leland, Esq., Bangor, Me., is the petitioner of the clerk to the Secretary of the Board of Agriculture, meeting the clerk of the Legislature. Mr. Leland is an ex-member of the Board, and is well known to the public.

The foreign market for apples continues to be good. The demand for the State's New Castle of Hallowell, called the best fruit, with 50,000 barrels of apples, has been received to be a demand for large quantities of fruit, but prices cannot advance so far as shipments are so heavy. The price at Liverpool for common No. 1. Baldwin varieties is from $1.75 to $2.00 per barrel for sound fruit.

A. G. Gilbert, the agricultural editor of the Farmer, has been appointed by the American Pomological Society, a delegate from this society to the World's Exposition at New Orleans, Louisiana. This year, January is set for the meeting of delegates, as the collection of fruit will then have been perfected. At this time, also, there will be a meeting of the Maine Valley Horticultural Society, at the season of which valuable information may be acquired.

Mr. Kirtland, Dear Sir: Will you please to inform me the difference between the two styles of apples, the one called the New Castle of Hallowell, and the other the New Castle of Hallowell? I am very much interested in the matter, and will be glad to hear from you at any time.

Support, Dec. 1, 1884.
The crop report for November of the Department of Agriculture makes the grain crop of the country 1,500,000,000 bushels, the largest ever raised in this country. The average for the year is 20 bushels to the acre. Though the number of bushels is great, it is not equal to the average of the five years ending in 1879. Nebraska takes the lead with 35.5 bushels per acre, Kansas 34.5, and Maine 33.5 bushels per acre.
New England raised an average of 34 bushels to the acre. The New Hampshire lead with 34.5 bushels per acre, Maine 34.5, and New Jersey 33.5 bushels per acre.

Farmers have rights and sometimes they lose them. A recent article in the Farmer, written by George W. Brown, N. Y., to prevent growers of vegetables, fruit, etc., retarding their goods to the market. The article is a very valuable one, and should be read by all who are interested in the subject.

There has been a large supply of sheep brought to the market. The past week there was the previous quite a large portion of the cattle brought to the export trade to be shipped for London and Portland. The trade for hunch has been very very easy to speak of from those to whom we owe one week ago. There were several very extra bales brought into the city which were fattened by Mr. Gaines of Iowa, and which were sold at a very good price. This lot of cattle were brought to the city as good as any that have been brought to the West this season, all of which were purchased by H. Bird and Co. of Chicago. They weighed from 1,200 to 1,400 lbs. each; 9 out of 20 of the said lot were under the weight of the first lot, and of the choice prices of these cattle were engaged to the proprietors of the Queen of the West and Keweenaw Houses of the city. These cattle were very fat and fine.

SHEEP AND LAMBS. These from the West are costing butchers from 4 1/2 to 5 per lb., live weight, landed at the city.
